Gary Gibb Appointed President - Asia Pacific

The board of L&B is delighted to announce the appointment of Gary Gibb as President Asia Pacific, effective 1 January 2013:

Gary has dual Australian/British citizenship and is based in Melbourne, Australia and whilst the new division title represents the geographical focus of the business, his responsibility will also extend to L&B services in the Middle East, Africa and Europe. In his 12 years with the firm, the last seven as Vice President Worldwide Services, Gary has an outstanding record in leading the provision of comprehensive aviation planning services in the fastest growing aviation markets in the world.

Commenting on the new role, Gary observed "We are in the Asian Century and L&B has taken the long view on our commitment to the region by investing in high quality, professional staff based in close proximity to our clients. Our main regional offices in Melbourne and Shanghai are supported by representative offices and staff in the Middle East, Hong Kong, Mumbai, Bangkok and London. Also by harnessing the combined talents of our Asia-Pacific and Americas Divisions and the 60 years of experience of the company, our clients derive the benefit of an established and truly global, specialist aviation consulting firm."

Gary is a Civil Engineer and has 27 years of diverse experience in the aviation industry including roles based in Hong Kong and Europe. He has strong commercial and technical understanding of the aviation industry and of the nuances of the region. Under Gary's leadership, our clients can look to L&B with confidence to support their plans to grow their aviation business.
